

Two readings – First, from the Daily Word –

Oneness

I LIVE, move, and have my being in God. God lives, moves, and has expression in and through me. In this realization of eternal oneness with God I know myself to be whole and free. I am free from fear, free from discord or disease, free from limitation.

In my realization of oneness with God I know this Truth:

All that God is I am. God is life; I am living.

God is love; I am loving.

God is wisdom; I am wise.

God is strength; I am strong.

God is all good. I am all-good

And now “Universe” by Joseph Miller

I see the power of the universe to change remnants of chaos into majestic beauty

I feel the ripples of time and space reflected in my being a child of the mountains searching for gold

I dig into my soul to find my truth buried in darkness, a beacon of light

I am in the glow of humanity awakening to the oneness of the universe.
